EASY-TO-DO ECO-FRIENDLY CAT CARE IDEAS

Use biodegradable bags for your biodegradable litter! Check out options including BioBag or BeyondGREEN compostable cat litter waste bags.

Have a green thumb? Grow flowers out of Naturally Fresh compost.

Pet stains? Make your own non-toxic cleaning solution with vinegar, baking soda, lemon, and water.

Stock up on eco-friendly cat toys made from organic or recycled materials, like organic catnip-stuffed carrots, mittens, and mice from PurrfectPlay or soft, colorful hand-knit cat toys made from 100% wool yarn, courtesy of CattitudeCatToy.

Get creative with sustainability! Build a cat house out of cardboard boxes or a secret sleeping spot out of an old tire (so you can watch your cat kid do a classic cat thing — curl up in a circle).

Consider making your own cat food from healthy ingredients that may include fish oil, chicken, and spinach. Check out FelineLiving.net for a slew of recipes.

PET PARENT PRO TIPS

Want to keep your cat kid safe from the elements, boost their brain power, help them stay healthy, and spend quality time together? We've got tips!

1 Inside is safest

- Create comfy spots for them by the window so they can watch the wildlife (or the mail carrier).
- Hide toy mice around the house so they can tap into their hunting instincts and keep up with their exercise routine.
- Place a heated cat house on your porch or outside steps if they head out during colder temperatures.

2 Play, play, play

- Set aside playtime with your cat every day, whether you're dangling wool yarn in front of them or blowing catnip-infused bubbles for them to chase.
- Get a laser pointer to enhance their problem-solving skills, like figuring out where that red dot is coming from, where it's going, and how it got on their forehead.
- Take a walk around the block with a sturdy harness and leash.
- Consider adopting another cat for interactive play and companionship.

3 Practice preventative care

- Administer meds that prevent heartworm and keep fleas and ticks away, especially if your cat spends any time outside.
- Feed them controlled portions of nutritious food with organic or non-GMO ingredients if possible.
- Use a biodegradable litter like Naturally Fresh, which is non-toxic, free of harmful silica dust, and doesn't get stuck in paws.
